SUMMARY

Full stack web developer with experience in customer service, looking to innovate and create clean, intuitive, and responsive websites. Soon to earn a certificate in full stack web development through U of A, with a personal emphasis in Javascript, Node.js, MySQL, and Express. I've been known as a quick learner, a multitasker, and tend to take the lead on projects of all sizes. Recently led a team of three to create a movie website akin to IMDB, where we leveraged an api to display movies based on user criteria. I'm incredibly excited to test my skills, learn new ones, and get into a field I finally feel passionate about.
